What does it mean to be an ELL?

- The learner's first language is not English.
- The learner is not yet proficient in English.
- The learner may need modifications for work in the content area classrooms.

What do we do in ESL class?

We work on:

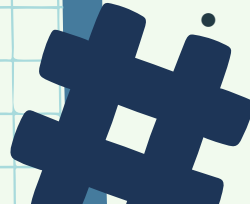

- Reading, Writing, Speaking, and Listening

We cover:

- Language Arts, Math, Science, and Social Studies

Students work:

- One-on-one, with partners, in small groups and sometimes use technology

Benefits of ESL Support

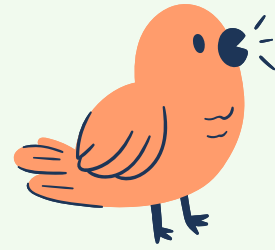

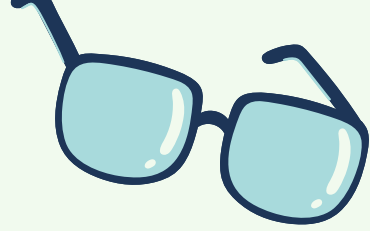

ELLs have one 40 minute period of ESL with per day, one to five students at a time

Teachers become familiar with academic content that students need to learn

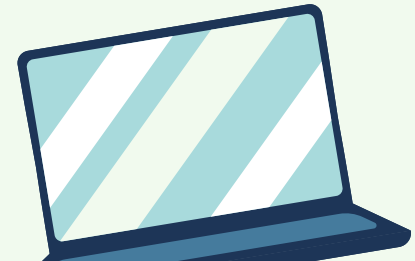

Teachers provide assistance to ELLs with reading comprehension and the writing process
